ABOUT THIS PRESENTATION

A review and discussion of this collection of articles that deal with children and their Others (parents, families, foster homes and intensive care units) from a Lacanian perspective. This collection of case examples provides an accessible exposition of psychoanalytic therapy with this population of clients, free of the usual morass of impenetrable Lacanian writing.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

1. To introduce the Lacanian concepts of the Mirror Phase and Lacan's "Notes on the Child";
2. To facilitate a beginning understanding of Lacanian thinking and as it applies to our work with children and their formative Others.

ABOUT THE PRESENTER

Michael Blugerman is a past-president of CAPCT, former president of ATTACH: Association for Training on Trauma and Attachment in Children, Executive Director of Children's Resource and Consultation Centre of Ontario. In this agency and private practice, Michael has been involved with work in adoption and attachment issues with children and more recently in the area of infant mental health.
