RECOGNIZING AND WORKING WITH DISSOCIATIVE STATES IN CHILDREN AND ADOLESCENTS

Presenters

Margaret Nurse MSW, RSW, Dip.TCPP (currently CICAPP)
&. Dagnija Tenne, Dr. Psych., Dip. TCPP (currently CICAPP)

ABSTRACT

Very often we encounter dissociative states when working with children and adolescents. What are they? How to recognize them? How to think about them? What affect do they have on children and adolescents? What affect do they have on us? The next question follows-what do we do about dissociative states as psychoanalytic therapists?

Dagnija and Margaret will begin the seminar with the introduction of the concept of dissociation and will illustrate dissociative states from case material as manifested in the therapeutic situation.

Our hope is to have a dialogue and a mutual learning experience that will enrich our professional work. In this meeting we look forward to a lively discussion on the fascinating and elusive concept of dissociation.
